

EnerTech Expands its Innovation Platform Through a Partnership with Restructuring Company Steinberg Advisory

Toronto, ON and Philadelphia, PA – January 27, 2026 - EnerTech Capital, a leading venture capital firm focused on innovation in mobility, industry 4.0, and connected customer, is pleased to announce the expansion of its growing innovation platform with a portfolio services layer using a curated collection of independently owned businesses. These companies will provide critical services to its portfolio companies and broader network, including a partnership with advisory & restructuring firm Steinberg Advisory Corp. ("SAC").

EnerTech's Expanded Innovation Platform – Addition of Restructuring Services

Over the past 29 years, EnerTech has received over 15,000 funding requests and made over 78 direct investments. Start-ups often struggle to access experienced, skilled resources as they do not have the budget to hire the right full-time talent. The partnerships EnerTech is developing are meant to fill this gap with seasoned operators who understand and support innovative start-ups and high growth companies.

EnerTech's expanded portfolio services layer will include partnerships with a curated collection of independently owned companies that provide fractional services to our portfolio companies and broader network. We believe these innovative, impact-oriented leaders have the right skills and mindset to work with early-stage to growth-stage companies.

The core fractional service partnership areas EnerTech is rolling out will include:

- Marketing
- Human Resources
- In-house Legal
- Restructuring
- Strategy Implementation

Howard and his team have developed a platform of core services that will be a valuable resource for both our firm and our broader network of Corporate LPs and co-investors,” said Wally Hunter, Managing Partner at EnerTech Capital.
